

A O. P. RACE IS TIGHTENING

Democrats Swing Into Final Week of Big Fight

ONE DRAHEY VICTORY CERTAIN

Republicans Asked for Statements by State Chairman

Centrifuge

COLUMBUS — (By United Press) — With the state primary election only a week away, candidates swung into the stretch to day for five days of strenuous campaigning before sitting back to watch the votes pile up.

Interest naturally centered on the Republican gubernatorial race, where eight candidates are still fighting for an opportunity to match strength with Governor Ross A. Drahay in the November election.

More running on his record in office and the Democratic nomination is conceded to Drahay over James C. E. Beatty, of East Liverpool.

Political observers here today predicted the Republican race for the gubernatorial nomination will develop into a three-cornered fight between former Governor Harry L. Davis, George B. Harris of Cleveland and John F. Burke, Syria publisher. Harris and Burke were at the height of their tug-of-war for the support of the Cuyahoga co. organization.

Both are strong in the bigger cities of the state. State Senator Burke, on the other hand, has carried his fight into smaller cities and rural districts, denouncing "bossism" and promising a progressive administration. His supporters believe he can win without the big city vote.

CABLE IN RACE

The second bracket in the Republican contest embraces James A. White, of Columbus, Congressman John L. Cable, Lima and Homer Durand of Coshocton.

All will poll fairly large votes, observers believe. White has developed unexpected strength since campaigning got under way.

Cable who is just opening his campaign in person today at Toledo, has been seriously handicapped by an eye injury which places his political fortune largely in the hands of Mrs. Cabin and others.

Durand, promising to take all the "unfairness out of prohibition enforcement," has campaigned chiefly by mail and poster.

Two Republican candidates are left. George Blaffer, legal candidate of Akron, whose strength is believed to have slipped, and Durand, who during the last week, may spring a surprise.

Henry Clay Smith, Cleveland negro, is believed to have developed more strength than usual.

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Each of the eight Republican candidates for governor was asked in a letter to Charles W. Montgomery, chairman of the Republican state central committee, to advise Republican headquarters today whether or not in event of nomination they would support the candidacy of President Coolidge and General Dawes, and whether or not in event of their own gubernatorial candidacy should fall of nomination if they would support the successful nominee.

Montgomery said in his letter that the attitude of certain candidates had been asked of the committee and he accordingly was making each candidate for an immediate answer.

RUM RETURNED

Stock Seized in New York Home Taken Back

NEW YORK — (By United Press) — Prohibition agents turned liquor delivermen when they returned $750 worth of liquor to the home of Hugo G. De Fritsch, whose wife is a niece of Chief Justice Taft of the United States supreme court.

At the same time it was announced Robert J. Owen, prohibition agent who seized the bootleg at the De Fritsch home had been dismissed from the service.

The liquor taken in raid was returned because the district attorney and chief prohibition agent stated it was pre-prohibition stock.

The raid on the De Fritsch home was made after agents said they had watched motor cars draw up in front of the place each night. They claimed it was a "sleek easy" The family was not at home at the time of the raid.

Owen was released from the service for misrepresenting the facts in obtaining the warrant for the raid.

LABOR COUNCIL NEUTRAL AS TO DEFENSE DAY

ATLANTIC CITY — Denouncing with impartial vehemence both militarism and pacifism the executive council of the American Federation of Labor today refused to become involved in the national defense day controversy.

The attitude of the council toward national observance of the day will be one of strict neutrality, it is announced, however, that "defense day" is a matter of law and most labor men will feel that our military establishment may participate in the exercises.

Speaking of the council's stand, W. W. Wolf, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor and spokesman for Samuel Gompers, president, said:

"We do not know the fine points of militarism and pacifism. We understand the designs of the military and we take advantage of opportunity to promote and war spirit."

Missouri Primary

INE IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

Another Enters for Secretary of State

ST. LOUIS — (By Associated Press)—Missouri voters went to the polls today to ballot for party nominees to the various state congressional, judicial, county and local offices to be filled in the Noember elections.

Following one of the most energetic and bitter campaigns in the history of the state, interest in the primary appeared centered chiefly in the outcome of the gubernatorial race in which five Democrats and three Republicans spurred entered.

With the main issues of prohibition and the Ku Klux Klan sharply drawn by the candidates for the office of governor and other issues emphasizing tax reduction and law enforcement prominently, interest turned from the congressional race in which fifteen of the fifteen congressmen seek renomination.

Of the list of candidates for state and congressional offices sixteen were women. Mrs. Kate Morrow, of Warrensburg, Democrat, secretary of the state committee, the first woman to file for major office in Missouri, made vigorous campaign for the office of secretary of state. Mrs. Alice Meyer-Wing, of Greenville, entered the Republican race for the contest for state treasurer, Mrs. Edith E. Garver of Springfield, filed on the Socialist ticket.
One woman filed for state
nator and nine for state representatives.

ANSAS PRIMARY TOPEKA, Kansas—(By Associated Press)—The Republican council for the gubernatorial and United States senatorial nominations, held chief interest in the state-wide primary today.

Sen. Arthur Capper, candidate to succeed himself, is opposed by Sheffield Ingalls of Atlanta and Tom D. Smith of Hialatha. Senator Capper has been tacked for his opposition to the policy of President Coolidge on the oilfield bonus.

Ben S. Pease, lieutenant governor, Ku Klux Klan endorser; Clyde M. Reed, former editor and former chairman of the state public utility commission; former Governor W. E. Stumbo of Lawrence and J. F. Bowles, anti-klan extremist, are making the Republican nomination for governor.

In the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, Governor Jonathan M. Davis is opposed by Harry S. Burton, former mayor of Kansas City, Kansas. Two other names appear on the ballot but these candidates have thrown their support to Davis.

Six candidates are entered for the Democratic nomination for United States senator.

MOUNTAIN TROUT FACE EXTINCTION IN DROUGHT

SCRAMENTO, Cal.—The prolonged drought in California has made water in the mountain streams so low that trout are threatened with extinction and efforts are being made to sustain their life, according to the state fish and game commission.

The shrinking of the streams has made the trout an easy prey to anglers, and animals and birds have found it no longer difficult to catch them. The number of various species of trout is estimated to have diminished alarmingly.

MINER CHOKES WILDCAT TO DEATH WITH NOOSE

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo.—Victor Douglas, a miner, was driving with a companion in an automobile near here recently when a wildcat crossed the road in front of them and climbed to a ledge on the cliff above the road. Douglas spared the beast with a long stick and baling wire.

The enraged cat sprang, but Douglas dodged and was able to keep it from clamping on him by whirling it around him at the end of the wire. Finally Douglas began to grow dizzy, and giving the wire a final swing, and hurled it against the cliff and dashed for his car. But the bobcat did not move. The men found it had been choked to death.

Rough Sailing Is Endured By Deep Sea Salt

A deep water seaman, far, far from blue water, told of his experience as an amateur dairy hand in common pleas court Tuesday.

Joseph A. Williams, 22, Boston, Mass., arrested for stealing the automobile of L. A. Amstutz, Beaverdam, pleaded guilty and told the court his experiences.

"I'm a firman on a steamer from Boston to Havana, sir," he said, "and never was inland before.
I went to South Bend for work, sir, but there was none, so I and my mate started to walk."

"We asked several farmers for work, and finally offered one man to milk some cows for a little to eat. I think everything would have been all right, only the cows wouldn't stand still, sir, and the farmer called us 'bums' and ordered us on our way."

Judge Becker sentenced Williams to one year in Ohio State penitentiary but suspended the sentence. Warren J. Finn, a second seaman, who accompanied Williams on the journey, will appear in court later.

A LABOR CABINET TOTTERING

British Political Situation Described by Writer

ELECTION EXPECTED SOON

Present Ministry is Declared Too Conservative

By P. M. SARTL

LONDON—(By United Press)—The first British Labor Socialist government is failing—because it is too conservative.

If it had been too Red, it would have fallen sooner.

So say the political experts.

The explanation is not far to seek. Premier Ramsay MacDonald, who heads a minority government, maintained in power simply because of the partitioning of the Conservatives and Liberals.

The main object of Conservatives and Liberals has been to keep each other out.

The Conservatives are quite satisfied that they have spiked the Liberals' best guns and that the sooner an election comes the better it will be for Conservatism.

Conservative leaders predict that Liberalism will be virtually wiped out at the polls, owing to the vacillation of Liberal Leader Asquith, and that the next election will be a straight battle between Conservatism and Labor Socialism. True, David Lloyd George has to be considered, but as long as Asquith is the official leader of the Liberal party, the Conservatives are eager for the fray.

And, ironically enough, Ramsay MacDonald's sins have been those of omission rather than commission. From the point of view of the ordinary British Conservative, Ramsay MacDonald has been an admirable Premier. Good old blue-bloods from the county families, now admit, somewhat grudgingly, that he has done "fairly well." At least he has done nothing revolutionary.

True, he recognized Soviet Russia, but that didn't hurt anybody, for the previous Conservative government would have done the same thing, for political reasons.

But the old-fashioned Conservative is now saying, with almost as air of real relevance: "But this man isn't Red at all. He's just ordinary sane." So why should we keep him in office when we might have one of our own folk?"

WEARS SILK HAT

Ramsay MacDonald wears a silk hat and Prince Albert coat when he goes to see the king. He has never tried wearing a sack coat, and red tie and sandals without socks, on ceremonial occasions. And this disgruntles both his former opponents and many of his more advanced supporters.

The advanced Labor man says, "Ramsay's getting too much upstage." True, he has come down to earth. Actually, MacDonald is suffering from the ordinary disabilities of changing the role of opposition critic to that of constructive administrator. He has found himself saddled with a gigantic business organization which cannot have its methods altered radically without wrecking the edifice and which he has not got the Parliamentary majority to accomplish.

MacDonald had tried to enact the most radical reforms advocated by his party, he would quickly have been voted out of office by the overwhelming Conservative and Liberal vote, but he might still have retained the enthusiastic support of his own followers.

Numerous labor troubles strikes etc., arose, but Mac Donald handled them much as a Conservative Cabinet would have done. This earned him neither the thanks nor approval of Conservatives, Liberals, or Labor men. MacDonald's great drawback has been the too liberal promises made by himself and his principal colleagues at the last election. Never really believing that they would secure a majority in the present Parliament, they offered sweeping promises of solution for most known national and international ills. They professed to have workable cures for unemployment, the housing shortage, European unrest, and numerous other things, but since they came somewhat unexpectedly into power they have been unable to redeem these promises.

Housing and unemployment still remain the chief troubles of Britain and the Labor Ministers have had to confess that they have no solution. With a conservative majority in parliament they might have tried heroic measures, but without a majority they recognized their own impotence.

MacDonald had tried to enact the most radical reforms advocated by his party, he would quickly have been voted out of office by the overwhelming Conservative and Liberal vote, but he might still have retained the enthusiastic support of his own followers.

Putnam co Coroner to Be Honored by Many Friends

OTTAWA Funeral services for Dr. Albert F. Shethley, county coroner and widely known surgeon will be held Wednesday at 9 a.m. at Sts. Peter and Paul's Roman Catholic church. The death of Dr. Shethley occurred Sunday, following an illness which had its inception two years ago. Immediate cause of death was hemorrhage of the brain.

Members of the Knights of Columbus and of Sts. Peter and Paul's Men's society, which he was affiliated with, will be represented at the funeral.

The Putnam co. Medical society will attend in a body, members coming from over the county to pay honor to their colleague.

Rev. V. H. Krull, pastor of Sts. Peter and Paul's church, will officiate at the mass.

Fall berries will be George A. Stauffer, United States marshal of Ottawa, Earl Henefield, former county clerk of courts, B. H. Recker of the Bank of Ottawa, Frank A. Kable of Lima, Charles Hahn and Louis Rampa, Ottawa business men.

Business houses will close from 11 to 12 m. during the hours of the service.

Hundreds of people, friends of the physician and representatives of the families in which for years he has served as the family doctor, have called at the Shethley home to pay a tribute.

Messages of sympathy are pouring in upon the stricken widow and daughters and the aged. Telegrams of condolence mark the passing of a man who, in the estimation of his leading citizens, will be much missed in Ottawa.

Ramsay's policy, under the circumstances has been to prove that Labor leaders can govern the country safely and to try and eradicate moderate votes from the party towards their alleged Red policies and leanings.

CONGRESS FIELD SURVEYED

abor Federations Council Making Candidates to Support

RECORDS ARE SCRUTINIZED

Committee's Report on Findings Expected Soon

ATLANTIC CITY—(By Associated Press)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor whose endorsement of the La Follette-Wheeler candidates and platform was accepted by the recipients yesterday, launched today into its announced campaign of participation in all national, state and local elections of 1924.

The council has picked its residential and vice presidential favorites. Next it will scrutinize the records of aspirants to Congress with a view to swing the votes of labor to such Republicans, Democrats or independents as may have the rating "friendly to labor."

This is the program for today and possibly tomorrow. The national non-partisan political campaign committee of the federation did not wait until its endorsement of La Follette and Wheeler was O. K'd by the council before beginning its survey of congressional material.

REPORT EXPECTED SOON

Samuel Conner, president, and Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, have been at it for months with two of their vice presidents, James O'Connell and Matthew Col.

Members of the executive council announced this morning they expected from the committee, some time today, a report of recommendations concerning congressional candidates, which would be of great public interest.

Later, when the executive council now in annual session at a Hotel Ambassador, completes its political and organization business, the political committee will continue thru trades, political and other organizations, put the stamp of approval or approval upon candidates for state and local office throughout the country.

LAFOLLETTE TO FOREGO NOTIFICATION CEREMONY

WASHINGTON—Senator La Follette is planning to let President Coolidge and John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential nominee, lead off in the campaigning. He intends to reserve further comment on issues until both have discussed them publicly, and then, later in the campaign, to state his position with vigor.

This strategy meets with the approval of La Follette's advisers, who pointed out today that it fits in with his decision to forego the customary formal notification ceremony which occasions a speech from the nominee.

La Follette, it was added, will be able to sit back in silence while Davis, in accepting the Democratic nomination in a speech at Clarksburg, W. Va., next Monday, discloses his position on various political and economic questions and President Coolidge, later in the week, in a similar address here discusses what he considers the pressing issues of the campaign and how he thinks they should be handled.

ROTARY'S PICNIC AUGUST 21

Crippled Children of County to Be Entertained

Allen-co's crippled children will be given a picnic and a general all-around good time Aug. 21 by the Lima Rotary club. Lisle Parmenter, chairman of the welfare committee, announces.

Place for the picnic has not been set, but it very likely will be at Russell's Point, it is said. If it is held at that place, the concessions are to be purchased for an hour or so and the youngsters will be free to enjoy themselves to their heart's content. It is also planned to take all of them on a boat ride on Indian Lake.

A committee was appointed to make plans for the holiday and definite announcement is to be made later.

Welfare work of the Rotary club everywhere centers around the crippled children. The local club each summer gives a picnic for the crippled children of Allen-co and at Christmas time sees that they are amply provided with gifts.

TUNNEL TO OPEN NEW ROUTE

Transcontinental Railroad to go Thru Mountain

RICH SECTION IS TAPPED

Mineral Wealth to be Unlocked by Engineers

DENVER, Colo.—(By United Press)—Another transcontinental railroad system for the United States, and development of an area half as large as the New England states, endowed with more resources than Nature usually gives one section, will be the direct result of the completion of the Moffat tunnel, now being bored straight thru the heart of snow-clad James Peak, in the continental divide.

The continental divide in Colorado has always been a barrier to a direct railroad route from New York to San Francisco. Transcontinental systems have been obliged to lay their tracks to the north and south of this state, traversing Wyoming and New Mexico.

Northwestern Colorado is composed of fertile mountain valleys, hemmed in by towering mountains. The only outlet has been by the way of the Denver and Salt Lake railroad, high spirals its way up to and over Corona pass at an elevation of 11,600 feet. In winter the road is closed for weeks at a time by the snows which pack the divide. In the early summer when the snow begins to melt, rockslides from the mountain cliffs block the road at frequent intervals. Trains loaded with freight, and their crews have been known to plunge into chasms of the pass when hit by rockslides jarred loose by the throbbing of laboring engines.

TIME SAVER

The tunnel will be 6.04 miles long, and will eliminate twenty-three miles of railroad over Corona pass. It burrows into James peak at an elevation of 9,100 feet. Its center will be 1,160 feet below the top of James peak.

On the authority of the United States Geological Survey, more than one-half of the nation's coal supply is in this region. The only anthracite coal beds west of the Mississippi river are to be found there. Oil said to the extent of 45,000 acres has been withdrawn by the government on behalf of the navy.

Zinc, lead, molybdenum, gypsum, fluorite, uranium, vanadium, radium, iron and gold deposits have been found there. Lumbering, stock-raising and agriculture are among other industries.

The railroad tunnel will be electrified when completed, and will care for automobile traffic as well as traffic by rail. Autos and other miscellaneous freight will be carried thru the tunnel on flat cars.

Running by the side of the mountain tunnel will be a water tunnel built to carry to eastern Colorado some of the surplus water on the western slope of the divide.

The problem of building the tunnel has always been entrusted by the state of Colorado to W. P. Robinson, an old business associate of David H. Moffat, the man after whom the tunnel is named. Moffat himself tried to put the tunnel thru but was blocked by lack of money. He will, however, see his dream realized in the work of his former associate.

NEW WARNING IS GIVEN AUTOISTS

August Shown as Most Dangerous Month

ACCIDENTS ON INCREASE

Figures Given Out by Commerce Commission

LIMA NEWS BUREAU
After Building, Washington, D. C.

August is the dangerous month for reckless motorists who like to try to beat a train to a grade crossing, according to figures supplied by the Interstate Commerce Commission to the Statistical Commission of the Conference on Street and Highway Safety. This committee is one of the eight groups of experts invited by Secretary of Commerce Hoover to make studies of means whereby the growing toll of deaths and accidents in traffic may be checked and conditions improved.

Studies of grade crossing casualties by months for 1921, 1922, and 1923 show that the motorist loses the race more often in August than during other months of the year. In 1921 during August there were 239 persons killed and 612 injured in grade crossing accidents; in August, 1922, the killed numbered 212 and the injured 635; and for August, 1923, the increase was consistent, 233 being killed and 670 injured.

For the entire year 1923, the I. C. C. figures show, 2,262 persons were killed and 6,314 injured in grade crossing accidents, most of whom were occupants of automobiles. Besides those killed outright 154 of the injured died within 24 hours.

CAUSE TRAIN WRECKS

In certain instances, the report shows, the motorist involved in grade crossing accidents was responsible for the deaths or injuries of others than his party. For 1923, motor grade crossing accidents caused 200 derailments of trains in which there were killed 102 trainmen, two other employees, no passenger, 13 other non-passengers and one trespasser. In these derailments caused by the motorist there were injured nine railmen, two other employees, 46 passengers, three postal clerks or express messengers and 24 other non-passengers. In 17 other train accidents caused by the motorist at grade crossings there were killed three other non-passengers and injured two passengers and 21 other non-passengers.

The popularity of this super-hazardous game seems to be on the increase, the studies show, for crossing percentages are shown as grade crossing accidents involving motorists. Where in 1917 the proportion of motorists involved in grade crossing accidents was 10 per cent, this figure has grown 84 per cent for 1923. However, fairness to the motoring public, must be pointed out that the 17 motor registration was 4,340, and that for 1923 was 10,217. The ratio of increase indicates that the reckless motorist as a class is decreasing, perhaps that the "survival of the fittest" is the "survival of the few."

Pedestrians and drivers of other motor vehicles are taking their chances than before. While per cent of pedestrians were involved in grade crossing casualties in 1917, there were but 8 per cent for 1922; and the ratio of occupants of other vehicles dropped from 25 per cent in 1917 to 10 per cent for 1922.

Another factor which undoubtedly influences the toll of grade crossing victims is the number of tested grade crossings. At the end of 1922 all of the Class 1 roads in the nation had 24,700 street, avenue and highway signs, of which 30,250 were tested by gates, flagmen, auditable visible signals or other devices.

During the year 612 such signs had been placed in the tested class as a part of the new policy to extend the use of active warning devices as often as possible.

STREET JOB TO BE LET

Frobese is Low Bidder on Bluffton Paving

Bids for paving Grove-st, Bluffton, with asphaltic macadam were received by the county commissioners Monday afternoon. Frank A. Frobese, Lima contractor, who has been doing the excavation work on more than 30 city streets, is low bidder. His price for the job is $8,669.60.

Other bids submitted were by L. C. Clymer, Bluffton, $8,937.60; A. C. Alger, Arlington, $10,213.

The county proposes to build 18 feet in the center of the street and the village council has passed legislation for construction of nine feet on each side, four and a half feet on each side.

A separate contract for the village's share of the improvement will be let. The city and county will let to the same bidder, regardless of prices.

Award of the contract is held up by the county commissioners for this reason.

MRS. MAPEL IS BRIDGE HOSTESS

Mrs. W. T. Mapel, 509 W. Market-st, entertained a group of intimate friends at a one o'clock luncheon and bridge at the Shawnee Country club, Tuesday afternoon, complimenting two out-of-town guests in the city. Those honored at this affair were Mrs. James Bennett Lawton of Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Linton T. Crossman of Chicago.

Cards for eight were laid at the luncheon table, where wicker backrests of canary and darkspur made an artistic center piece. Other appointments were of yellow and blue. Bridge followed the luncheon.

Guests were Mrs. Lawton, Mrs. Crossman, Mrs. H. M. Crawford, Mrs. Frances Durbin, Mrs. Charles Hines, Mrs. Paul Schieber and Mrs. Mark Atchison.

Mr. C. E. Thomas, Miss Mary Thomas and Miss Lois Thomas, W. Springfield, have departed on a motor trip to Wildwood, N. J., where they will spend a month as the guests of Paul M. Thomas, of Easton, Pa.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I am coming to you for advice as regards my best. I will be 16 on August 10. Do you have any nice jewelry and candy for a friend of mine whom I have known for years. My friend is 20 years old and she is a real friend. Do you think anything he offers her? Do you think she should be pleased? Do you think it is right for me to keep company?

My parents are meeting to come get me to give up my steady job and go with them. I am 5 feet 5 1/2 inches tall, weigh 125 pounds and am five feet four inches tall. How much overweight am I? I am a bratine. What color will I wear best? How to write. Do you think my questions foolish? May I write again?

BETTY

I wouldn't accept any jewelry from the boys, Betty; have the boys limit the gifts to candy. You are a little too young to be going with a man six years older than yourself. Don't your parents feel he is a little old and that you should go about with boys your own age? There is no reason for him not to understand your refusing his expensive gifts. Jewelry and such gifts are only to be given when a couple is engaged. Eleven o'clock is late enough, my friend. Why should it be a question of "compel"? If they are moving and wish you to go with them, make no words. If you have a good position and you wish to keep working, perhaps an arrangement could be made that you could still keep that position and go home each night or week-ends. Consider such an arrangement; don't "refuse" to go.

You are about five pounds over weight. Navy blue, tan, yellow and rose would be becoming shades for you. Your writing is good. No, I enjoyed your letter; do write again.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a girl 13 years of age. Is it all right for me to read the "Teen Story" magazine? I have read it and like it very much.

My hair is dark brown and my eyes are blue. My complexion is dark. Am I blonde?

I have written and have written stories of from 100 to 150 words. Do you think I should continue?

In the name "Rita" Spanish or Italian? What is "magine" meaning?

Where a person is "good" in mathematics, are they usually "good" in music?

I don't know of the magazine of which you speak, but if it contains love and "blood-raking" stories, I wouldn't read it. You are too young to fill your mind with such literature.

I would say you are a bratine.

Yes, continue writing if you have talent along that line. Why not ask some authority on English or story writer to criticize your work? Then you can improve your work from time to time.

"Rita" is Spanish, being derived from seiorita, which means "Miss".

No, one can be bright in their mathematics and yet not be musically inclined. And so it is with the other subjects in the curriculum, one is always farther advanced in the subject in which one is really interested and talented.

GOWDY FIRST BALL PLAYER TO ENLIST HIGHLY HONORED

Local Horsemen Getting Into Game Again. Jane R. Goes To Front In Feature Race

GIANT CATCHER GETS HONORS FROM ARMY

By FRANK GETTY

NEW YORK—(By United Press)—Unusual honor comes to Hank Gowdy, lanky catcher of the New York Giants. The United States army and organized baseball have united to make the bashful veteran as uncomfortable as possible with speeches, engrossed testimonials, a military review and a lot of applause.

All this because Hank, back in 1917, "jumped" the National league for the bigger gang and went overseas for two years' service in the ranks of the A. E. F. Gowdy was the first big league ball player to enlist, showing the way eventually to a good many others.

The orator is the formal informing of Hank that a government ball park and athletic field at Fort Benning, Ga., has been named "Gowdy Field" in his honor.

The ceremony favors a little of the nottifying of Davis and Mr. Coolidge that they have been nominated standard bearers of their parties because Gowdy already knows about it.

"Why didn't you name it after Eddie Grant?" he asked straightforwardly. "I came back, but Eddie (former New York captain), didn't."

It was explained that the desire was to name the Fort Benning field after an enlisted man and that there never had been any question over the choice of the straw-haired, happy-natured, angular catcher of the Giants. So Gowdy had his uniform pressed and must stand and receive military reviews, one of the few times such an honor has been paid an enlisted man.

The ceremony takes place at the Polo Grounds and the Cubs are to play the Giants afterwards. Hank says he'll "hust" from nervousness if they make him catch after the preliminaries are all over.

General Bullard and General Ray and Welles are taking part. In the "Gowdy Field" ceremonies, the latter will present Hank with a copy of the department order naming the field.

"I hope the occasion will impress itself on the youth of the nation," General Welles said. "Gowdy's career, I think, is a bigger thing for the country than most people seem to appreciate."

The tall, catcher broken into the baseball limelight in 1914, when he hit two home runs in the four-game world series between the Braves and the Athletics. Entering in 1917, he became color sergeant of the 168th Infantry. GREAT DAYS IN BASEBALL

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—These are great days for the Yankees again. In the American League steeplechase, while New York, Detroit and Washington sap each other's vitality, with spurt and counter spurt, the remaining five clubs slowly but steadily reduce the gaps which separate them from the leaders and from one another.

As the Yankees again bounded to the fore thru their defeat of the Tigers, the Browns advanced to within three games and a half of the Senators. The Yankees, Tuesday, head the field by one game and Detroit, in second place, distances Washington by half a game. Between fourth place Browns and the last place Athletics only ten games intervene.

Launching one of the late winning rallies for which they are famous, the Yankees forced to the front in the ninth, were tied by the jungle cast in the ninth and ultimately won by a score of 8 to 8 in the eleventh. Ruth's thirty-fourth homer was the head-line performance.

St. Louis made it two straight over Washington and six wins in seven starts by capturing the second game of the series, 5 to 1. Wainright pitched in his usual Invincible form.

After getting rid of all the poor pitching in his system in the first inning, Messenger, Cleveland's recruit from Saginaw, Mich., recuperated and held Boston safe while his team mates hammered out a 14 to 5 victory.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

New York and Chicago cut each other's throat while Pittsburgh gained another half notch on the National League champions.

Both games of the New York-Chicago double bill were decided on the pitching mound. Bentley passed the McGraw clan to an easy 5 to 1 conquest in the opening and Blake returned the compliment in the finale by a 5 to 2 count.

Wilbur Cooper's slants were too deceptive for Brooklyn and Pittsburgh went home with the bacon by a margin of 5 to 3.

Cincinnati opened its series in Philadelphia with a 6 to 3 win. Allo Luque was hit hard, was stung in the bill, and never mustered. By Williams hit his twelfth homer of the season.

St. Louis handed the rudders to the Braves their daily grubbing to the tune of 4 to 1.

Maintenance Team Wins 5-3

The Loco Maintenance team of the Industrial Twilight league still holds first place in the standings Monday evening by defeating the Loco Accouplings 5 to 3. In six innings.

The Accountings had the bases full with two out and a runner one better up in the seventh, but a heavy downpour of rain stopped the game and their efforts were futile. The score reverted to the sixth.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Loco Accouplings 3 0 0 0 0 0 3 7 4

Maintenance 1 1 0 1 0 0 5 8 2 1

Our Net Income

In asking for a slight increase in rates for telephone service in Lima, The Lima Telephone & Telegraph Company is doing so as a sound business proposition. A great deal of money must be attracted to such an enterprise and held if efficient operation is to be continued.

Basing our calculations not on Reproductive values but on actual book figures which are materially lower, taking the first five months of 1924 and estimating the last seven months therefrom, our net income on the depreciated value of our property, used and useful in the service of the public, will be only 2½ percent for the year 1924.

That return, we submit, would not attract investors, to any enterprise or keep those already in sufficiently interested to continue pouring money into the hopper to keep any business going, to say nothing of attracting the additional money required constantly to keep pace with the growth of Lima.

Basing the new rates on the same figures, we find that, barring unfortunate casualties, our net rate, applicable to dividends and interest charges would be only 7 and fifteen one hundredths per cent on the depreciated value of our property, not considering the cost of establishing the business, which is not included in our calculations, altho legitimate and if included would very materially reduce the rate of return.

Lima's telephone rates have been low; the city has had the best telephone service engineering skill can build, and Lima will still have telephone rates ranking below other principal Ohio cities when the new rates become effective September 1, 1924. Altho 11th in population and 9th in number of telephones, Lima's residence telephone rate ranks 36th and business rates rank 19th in Ohio at present.

We find ourselves in the position of not being able to earn an income at present sufficient to attract the new capital required in this business. We must have additional capital to take care of the growing needs of this flourishing city and a slight increase in the low rates charged for service is the only available means of obtaining a return that will make possible keeping YOUR telephone system at its present high standard.

The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio is on record as fixing 8 per cent as a fair net return for utilities. We believe we will be able to keep your telephone service at the high standard we have set at a return nearly one per cent less than that set up by the Utilities Commission, for it is our policy to operate your telephone service in the most economic manner and keep rates at the lowest possible level.
